Princess Elizabeth Flooded With Gifts On 21st Birthday

By Louis Wulff

CAPETOWN, April 21 — (Reuters) — Princess Elizabeth came down to breakfast on her 21st birthday to receive a huge spread of presents and congratulatory telegrams from many parts of the world.

"MANY-HAPPY-RETURNS" wishes ranged from Prime Minister Attlee, the Lord Mayor of London, Viscount Mountbatten, viceroy of India and her second cousin once removed, and the Archbishop of Canterbury to Mrs. Eliza Malloes of Hadstock, Cambridge, England, who celebrated her 160th birthday today.

Today was proclaimed a gala festival and public holiday for Capetown and crowds waited all morning outside government house in the hope of seeing Elizabeth.

To the disappointment of the princess the first item on today's program—an ascent to the top of Table Mountain—had to be canceled owing to cloudy weather.

After reviewing and taking the salute at a march past of troops, veterans and other organizations, the princess broadcast her birthday speech to the youth of the empire.

It is the royal family's rule not to disclose what presents they give each other but birthday gifts for Elizabeth were included:

Eighty-seven diamonds suitable for mounting as a necklace from the Union of South Africa.

A six-carat pure blue-white diamond worth £1,500 ($6,000) from the town of Kimberley.

A £600 brooch and a cheque for £10,000 to be used to finance an exchange of visits between young Britons and Southern Rhodesians from the people of Southern Rhodesia.

An ostrich feather cape from Cape farmers.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH

Pledges Life to Empire

CAPETOWN, April 21 — (Reuters) — Princess Elizabeth pledged in an Empire broadcast today to devote her life to the service of the British Commonwealth and urged the youth of the Empire to help her ease the burden of the older generation which bore the responsibility of the Second World War.

The text of the speech:

ON MY 21ST birthday, I welcome the opportunity to speak to all the peoples of the British Commonwealth and Empire, wherever they live, whatever race they come from and whatever language they speak.

Let me begin by saying "thank you" to all the thousands of kind people who have sent me messages of good will. This is a happy day for me, but it is also one that brings serious thoughts — thoughts of life looming ahead with all its challenges and with all its opportunity.

At such a time it is a great help to know that there are multitudes of friends all round the world who are thinking of me and who wish me well. I am grateful, and I am deeply moved.

AS I SPEAK to you today from Capetown, I am 6,000 miles from the country where I was born, but I am certainly not 6,000 miles from home. Everywhere I have traveled.

May Limit Size Of World Police

NEW YORK, April 21 (CP) — The New York Times in a dispatch from Lake Success, N.Y., today, said it was learned that the military staff committee of the United Nations Security Council has decided to limit the proposed international police force in size to one that can handle disputes among small and medium powers.

The report said the decision was taken on the grounds that the United Nations would be unable to take action against any aggression by one of the five great powers.

The report added: "It was held that, since each of the five had a veto in the Security Council, which will have direction of the international police force, it would be useless to prepare for United Nations military action against any of them."

DETROIT, April 21 — (CP) — Thirty-two persons, including two union leaders, were arrested today and two persons were admitted to hospital following an outbreak of picket-line violence at the headquarters building of the strike-bound Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Fight fights, scuffling and name-calling greeted efforts of police to keep entrances open for admittance of non-striking employees.

Big Four Secret Meeting Fails End Austria Discord

By R. H. Shackford

MOSCOW, April 21 (BUP)

The Big Four failed today to reach immediate agreement on an Austrian peace treaty although they resorted to a two-hour secret session in an attempt to make a deal on three outstanding major issues.

THE MINISTERS invoked the strictest secrecy about what happened in their restricted meeting but official spokesmen would not rule out the possibility of further discussion of the Austrian issues.

They said it was expected that the ministers would return to the Austrian treaty again.

Immediate speculation was that the western powers offered the Russians a compromise or vice versa on the major obstacles to agreement and that time was asked for study.

But there likewise was speculation because of the secrecy that all efforts at compromise had failed.

Husband Charged

Young Mother And Son Slain

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 21 —

(CP) — Two charges of murder in the fatal northwoods shooting of a young mother and her two-year-old son were read today to Edgar James Simmons, 19-year-old summer resort caretaker, in magistrate's court. Magistrate James McEwen remanded Simmons in custody until April 29 for preliminary hearing.

The charges arose from the slaying of 24-year-old Mrs. Catherine Rupert and her son, Frederick Lee, Saturday.

Simmons, employed for the last 18 months at the Rupert family's summer resort on a bay of Lake Superior, showed no emotion as the court clerk read the charges.

Police said earlier Simmons told them he shot the woman and child. They declined to say whether he had signed a confession.

Steel Workers Get

Dollar Pay Boost

PITTSBURGH, April 21 — (AP) —

The U.S. Steel Corp. and the United Steel Workers (CIO) Saturday announced a new wage agreement calling for a general increase of $1 a day, paying the way for a year of peace and production in the vital steel industry of the United States.

The agreement, announced by President Philip Murray of the CIO and President Benjamin Fairless of the corporation, calls for a flat 32 cents an hour raise and is for two years. It contains a wage reopening clause after one year. The union estimated the increase at 15 cents hourly, including the cost of several subsidiary benefits.

Fairless declared the corporation hoped to absorb the increase without a price increase. He also said the union had agreed the management would not be obligated to pay the portal-to-portal travel time.

Butter Ration Likely to End During June

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP) —

Increasing support for reports that butter rationing may soon end in Canada — possibly in June — came Saturday night with disclosure that the Dominion's butter supplies were 16,000,000 pounds above the stocks on hand at this time last year.

The bureau of statistics said March supplies, including total stocks at the beginning of the month, imports and the month's production, totalled 43,000,000 pounds, compared with 27,000,000 pounds in March last year.

U.S. Navy Preparing "Push-Button" Arms

POINT MUGU, Calif., April 21 — (AP) — The navy has lifted the curtain part way to allow a peek at the push-button warfare for which it is preparing—just in case—at its air missile test centre on this lonely Southern California coastal point.

THE NAVY displayed dozens of weird missiles and flame-blasting power plants to visiting newspaper men at this site. The navy seeks from Congress approximately $29,000,000 to convert this leased 4,000-acre sand pit into a permanent installation of 7,200 acres.

The destructive "birds" with which the navy is working are divided into six categories, both offensive and defensive: air-to-air, air-to-ship, air-to-ground, ship-to-air, ship-to-ship and ship-to-ground. Missiles are received from the factories at this station, tested and sent back for adjustment.

ONE OF THE birds is the stub-winged and deadly Loon, or KUV-1 buzz bomb, a modified form of the German V-1. It is assisted in its launching from the ground by four rockets, incorporates radio control, has a speed in excess of 425 miles an hour and is designed to give exceptional accuracy at a 100-mile range.

Another is Little Joe, a blunt-nosed anti-aircraft weapon. The Gargoyle is a chunky air-to-ground bird to be launched from a disembarment with a jet power unit which gives it a top speed of 700

May Recommend Leopold Abdicate

NEW YORK, April 21 — (CP) —

The New York Times said today in a Brussels dispatch that the "troubling question" of King Leopold of Belgium may soon be clarified with publication of a report prepared by an impartial commission instructed to study "the attitude of the king since 1936." The best informed persons expect a mild statement clearing his name of the gravest charges against him while at the same time implying that the only solution lies in his abdication.

"Operation Vendetta"

Jewish Underground Opens Revenge Drive

JERUSALEM, April 21 — (BUP) — A curfew was imposed on Jewish areas of Jerusalem tonight following renewed underground attacks on British personnel. Officials said the curfew covered the Hypo area of the city, which recently was under statutory martial law.

JEWISH underground forces attacked British military vehicles at several points in Palestine earlier today. The attacks were said to be a continuation of last night's opening of an all-out campaign to avenge the execution of Dov Gruner and three other members of the Jewish underground.

ATTACKS were reported from Haifa and Ramleh in addition to Jerusalem where Jewish youths threw bombs at two military jeeps, injuring a passerby.

Last night's bombing of five army camps in which at least 10 British soldiers were wounded was interpreted as the beginning of the combined Irgun-Stern Gang "operation vendetta" to avenge Gruner and his associates.

Electric power was cut off at eight coastal points last night and the coastal highway was blocked as troops covered a 300-mile-long belt.

A ONE-TIME Warsaw lawyer, 38-year-old Menahem Beigin, commander of Irgun, was reported to have drawn up the strategy for the two organization offensive.

Average 55 Cents Per Ton

Immediate Increase In Coal Prices Here

Price increases averaging 55 cents a ton for coal delivered in Edmonton were announced Monday by officials of the Northern Alberta Coal Operators Association. The increase is effective immediately.

OFFICIALS emphasize that the new prices are in effect only on a trial basis. They point out that with the removal of controls on coal, the operators have experienced a loss of a dominion subsidy, which in this area varied between 45 and 65 cents a ton.

If it is found that the new prices do not compensate them for the loss of the subsidy, the operators say, there will be another increase in a few months. However they feel that the new prices will be adequate compensation.

The Dominion subsidy was paid for all types of coal, but it was felt that to add the amount of the subsidy to the cost of the slack, would make it too expensive. Therefore the price increase has been added to the domestic grades of the fuel.

There will be corresponding price increases for coal shipped in car, or truck lots, to country points in the district.

Prices of coal delivered in Edmonton, as a result of the increase, are: Lump coal $7.10; egg or stoker $5.50; nut $5; stoker $4.85.

NO DECISION has yet been reached on the price of slack, which represents 25 to 25 per cent of the output, but negotiations are under way with the city at the present time, to settle a price for this classification.

The city uses 150,000 tons of slack. It is understood, most of it for the power plant.

The operators said they have allowed for the smallest increase which allows them to run the mines at a profit.

Leduc No. 2 Now

Again Drilling

Held up by wet weather for some time, core drilling was resumed Monday morning at Imperial Oil Co. Ltd. No. 2 well in the Leduc area.

The well is down to a depth of 5,994 feet.

Drilling on No. 3 site is continuing at a depth of 4,514 feet.

Although hesitant to predict when No. 2 well will "come in" officials of the Imperial Oil Co. were hopeful that oil showings will be made within the next few days.

In the meantime production at No. 1 well, brought in several weeks ago, is still temporarily shut off because heavy roads and a lack of storage facilities make it impossible to transport the crude from the well site.

Prevent Depression

Truman Appeals For Lower Prices

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) —

President Truman, cautioning that the economic situation in the United States is "acute," appealed today for a united effort to bring prices down and prevent a depression.

ADDRESSING the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press, the chief executive said there must be:

1. "Moderation on the part of business."

2. "Forbearance on the part of labor," plus greater productivity.

3. "All-out effort on the part of the farmer."

4. "Wise guidance and action on the part of the government." Here he reiterated his plea against cutting taxes now and called for extension of rent, export and credit controls.

Truman tied in his proposals for bolstering the economy at home with his program of helping free peoples abroad maintain their freedom.

ALTHOUGH he did not refer by name either to Russia or to his plan for aiding Greece and Turkey resist Communism, the president declared:

"Many of these (free) peoples are confronted with the choice between totalitarianism and democracy. This decision has been forced upon them by the devastation of war which has so impoverished them that they are easy targets for external pressures and alien ideologies."

SPEAKING of forces which "so directly threaten" these peoples' way of life, he declared "we can provide the necessary assistance only if we ourselves remain prosperous."

He did not give further details on the ground it might prejudice current negotiations.

2 Arrested After 20-Minute Chase

Police guns went into action early today, to halt, and assist in the arrest of two men who entered the Taylor and Pearson warehouse, 10215 103 street, shortly after 3 a.m.

Three cars of policemen under the supervision of Sgt. H. "Tiny" Lytle responded to a call to surround the building, George K. Leacock and Haldmor Johnson, two Edmonton men were apprehended less than 20 minutes after the call was received.

They appeared in court this morning charged with breaking and entering and after pleading guilty, were remanded until April 25. They will be called on, probably, to face another charge.

FIVE SHOTS from police guns rang out down the alley behind the warehouses, after which the men lay flat and waited capture.

James W. Smith, 2637 77 street, night watchman at Taylor and Pearson, played a large part in the capture of the men. He used good judgment on discovering the two prowlers in the building, police said.

He said he had just gone to bed in the building when at about 3:20 a.m. he heard a crash. He ran upstairs and saw two men prowling through the front office, instead of giving an alarm, and scaring them away, he kept them under observation until he could reach a telephone and inform police.

THREE CARS full of policemen, under supervision of Sgt. H. "Tiny" Lytle responded, and surrounded the building. Constable Douglas Ellis, stationed at the front of the building, was the first policeman to spot the two men.

When he saw them, they were on the lower floor, and they were running to the rear of the premises and up the stairs on the inside of the building.

NEXT, ONE of the men was seen taking a flying leap from the roof of the building onto some oil barrels at the rear of the Wilkinson and McClean Limited, 10233 103 street. Constables T. Botsford and A. McCann, stationed at the rear of the building, saw the man make the jump.

Constable Botsford shouted at the man to stop. When he did not do so, both constables fired two shots into the air. Immediately.

New York Financier Facing Draft Charges

NEW YORK, April 21 — (AP)—The story-book career of Serge Rubinstein reaches one of its climactic chapters this week when a jury decides the guilt or innocence of the glib, 39-year-old financier whom the United States government is prosecuting on draft-evasion charges.

THE RUSSIAN-BORN investment banker—his father was financial adviser to Rasputin—falsified his draft status, the government contends, by maintaining that his business activities were vital to the war effort and that his induction would leave his dependents without financial support.

A young immigrant in 1938, Rubinstein in eight years dazzled Wall Street by climbing into control of nearly a score of companies.

Sudden affluence was nothing new to him despite his comparative youth. Rubinstein was reputed to have made $17,000 in his first business deal and at 24 became manager of Paris' Banque Franco Asiatic.

HE WAS EXPELLED from France in 1935 for alleged speculation against the Franco, subsequently became a Portuguese citizen, then came to the United States. Indicted on the draft-evasion charge, Jan. 10, 1946, Rubinstein went on trial last March 4. The trial is expected to end Wednesday.

After his indictment he was released on $20,000 bail, later raised to $500,000, highest in the history of the United States district court. The government had asked that it be increased to $1,000,000.

IN REGISTERING for the draft, the chunky investment banker, named as dependents his wife, mother, mother-in-law, two sisters-in-law and a friend.

A deferred classification resulted but it was rescinded and Rubinstein was reclassified 1A. His appeal carried all the way to the White House but the board was upheld.

Ordered inducted, he obtained deferred status again claiming he was a citizen of neutral Portugal and thereby exempt.

May Bring Nurses Here

CALGARY, April 21 (CP)—Miss Rae Chittick of Calgary, president of the Canadian Nurses Association, said in an address here Saturday the department of national health may consider bringing to Canada as many as 3,000 nurses from the displaced persons cases in the occupied countries of Europe.

ADDRESSING the closing sessions of the annual convention of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses, said one province had already been approached to ascertain the reaction of Canadian nurses.

The plan would be designed to alleviate the acute nursing shortage but there would be many aspects such as qualifications and registrations, the speaker said.

Miss Chittick told the convention of the "spot study" conducted by the CNA which showed the percentage of students in hospitals was higher than the nursing personnel. This meant two things: First, the student nurse is not getting sufficient instruction, and secondly she is doing too many routine jobs in the hospital, she said.

The officers elected were: President, Miss Blanche Emerson, Edmonton; first vice-president, Miss Jean Clarke, Edmonton; second vice-president, Miss Frances Ferguson, Calgary; councillor, the Rev. Sister Jeanne Forest, Calgary; convener of public health nursing, Miss Gladys Hutchings, Strathmore, and convener of private duty committee, Miss Orma Smith, Lethbridge.

ly the man retraced his steps and climbed back onto the roof.

CONSTABLE BOTSFORD and McCann then climbed to the roof and found the prowler lying behind a skylight. They arrested him and placed handcuffs on his wrists.

In the meantime Constables P. Salzi and W. Fedoruk were hot on the trail of the other man. Constable Salzi said he was in the lane when he saw the man run north across 103 avenue.

THE CONSTABLE said he called on him to halt but the man paid no heed so a shot was fired. This brought results. The man flopped down on the ground and waited for the constable to come forward and make the arrest.

Investigation revealed that the building had been entered by a door in the roof. The window in the door was smashed and the catch had been released. A check by company officials revealed that nothing was missing.

The offices of the Northern Fur Trading Company and Veribrite Neon Signs, located in the same building also were entered. The place had been ransacked but a check Monday morning revealed nothing missing.

When Johnson and Leacock appeared before Magistrate A. I. Millar in city court Monday morning they pleaded guilty to breaking into the Taylor and Pearson warehouse, and were remanded until April 25. Detective Inspector Bert Petheram said that additional charges in connection with the fur and sign premises will also be laid.

Writing "Pen-Friends" Is Industry in Britain

LONDON, April 21 — (Reuters)—Next to the movies and sport, the most popular past-time with British boys and girls today is writing letters to hundreds of thousands of pen-friends in all parts of the world.

TYPICAL OF the pen-friend enthusiasts is 14-year-old Pamela Shallick of Edgware, London. Pamela spends every evening writing to her friends in Canada, the United States, Brazil, South Africa, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Algeria and the British zone of Germany.

"In all, I have 753 correspondents," Pamela said. "I write an average of 20 letters weekly and although it takes up all my spare time, I have been top of my class in geography for years."

"To those who write anything sounding anti-British, I try as best I can to explain our attitude towards British policy in India and Palestine."

Several organizations in Britain handle translations for youthful correspondents. One of them is the British-Soviet friendship society.

SOME 2,000 YOUNG men and women, under 25 years of age, correspond regularly with 2,000 Soviet youths.

Among the letters from Russians were special requests for information on England, invitations to go to Russia, and always details of the Soviet family's part during the war. The letters were warm and friendly, many saying that little is known of Russia's ally, Britain.

Books of paintings, foreign stamps, photographs and other light articles are sent to and from the two countries.

One leading letter-exchange society receives so many letters from abroad that it refuses to allow its name to be published.

"AT THE MOMENT we are receiving something like 100 letters a week from Germans who want British friends," the secretary said. "Of course, we are unable to handle these. Whenever any publicity is given to the organization overseas we are inundated with letters for weeks afterwards. We are unable to cope with the hundreds of letters."

Canada and the United States are, and have been for many years, the most popular with Britain's teen-agers. Secretary of one international correspondence exchange said five of every 10 applications for a pen-friend are for Canadian or United States contacts.

CBC to Seek Legal Opinion

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will seek legal opinion on whether a Regina chamber of commerce radio series can be closed as "political" material, A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC Board of Governors, said today.

Mr. Dunton made public a reply to a telegram from Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines of Regina, who charged that the series, "Pattern for Prosperity," being presented over a Regina radio station and aired elsewhere in Canada, violated Dominion broadcasting statutes which prohibit the dramatization of controversial political presentations.

"Since the question raised relates to a statutory provision," Mr. Dunton replied, "I feel the need for our obtaining legal opinion as to whether these broadcasts are dramatized political broadcasts within the meaning of section 22 subsection 3 of the Canadian Broadcasting Act."

Mr. Martin referred to Mr. Bracken's remark during a CBC broadcast last Wednesday that the government should give first attention to domestic problems rather than international affairs.

Priest Stabbed During Communion

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP)—A man to whom Rev. James W. Courtney was administering Holy Communion stabbed the priest in the throat and back with a pocket knife in an unexplained assault Sunday at Jesuits Church.

Police said that despite the viciousness of the unexpected attack, Father Courtney, the assistant pastor, made no attempt to defend himself but bowed his head and tried to protect the chalice he held.

The officer reported the attacker, held on a charge of aggravated battery, was identified as Don Louis Laurent.

The priest was rushed to hospital in a police patrol wagon. Physicians performed an emergency operation and reported later that his condition was "fair."

Police officers said they were unable to get any information from the arrested man. They said he refused to answer questions and "looked into space with glassy eyes."

Landlords

houses are gambling that in less than two years all rental controls will have disappeared. They are, consequently, not anxious to bind themselves to only a 10 per cent rental increase by signing a two-year lease.

IN ADDITION, the prices board has learned, the owners of private homes now being rented, are in many cases anxious to regain occupancy of those homes. They too are not signing the two-year lease and consequently are foregoing the 10 per cent rental increase in the interest of getting possession of their homes in less than two years because they are confident all rental controls will be wiped out before 1949.

In Montreal approximately 75 per cent of all landlords have entered into two-year leases with their tenants and obtained the 10 per cent increase in rent. In Ottawa and Toronto the board officials estimate about 50 per cent of the landlords to date have put the increase into effect. In western cities preliminary reports indicate more than 30 per cent of landlords have put the increase into effect. Detailed reports on the western cities are now being received.

Invasion of Rats

The provincial entomologist has warned Alberta people that this province may face an invasion of rats within the next few months. Field crews of University of Alberta students are going out this summer to check carefully into the situation.

This warning cannot be emphasized too strongly. If rats are permitted to gain a foothold in Alberta, they will not only cost both the government and private individuals a lot of money, but will constitute a constant menace to health.

Many dangerous diseases are carried by rats. And their destructive capacity is almost beyond estimation.

Provincial and municipal authorities can give the lead in keeping the rodents out of the province. They can issue advice and instructions as to the best means of combatting them.

But final responsibility in the war against rats comes down to the individual householder and operator of any premises.

The carelessness of one man in a block can undo the work of all the rest of the block in trying to keep the pests out. For if rats are permitted to breed undisturbed in the smallest area, they will speedily infest an entire community.

The warning, then, is timely. Keeping rats out is infinitely easier than getting rid of them once they are in.

A Debt Long Due

Today at Ottawa a delegation of Indians from Alberta was scheduled to sit in with a joint committee of the House of Commons and the Senate, to discuss Indian affairs. As the Indian tribes in this as in other provinces live under the terms of treaties made with the Government of Canada, the gathering has some resemblance to an international conference.

The Indians were invited, at their suggestion and that of sympathizers, to advise parliament as to changes in Government policy which would better their conditions. They are in response asking for improved education facilities, better health services, better housing, and the development of the resources of the reserves on which they live.

There will be very general and very hearty support of these too long delayed changes. The Indian has not succeeded very well in adapting himself to the type of civilization that was thrust upon his country with the coming of the whites. He has failed partly because the invaders did not make serious enough attempt to help him learn and adopt their ways. They owe it to him to make up so far as they can for this neglect.

It has been said that the Indian cannot be made a white man. He is not asking for that. In fact he occasionally gives some embarrassing reasons why he prefers to be an Indian. What he is asking now is only that he be given a fair chance to become a better-housed, better-educated, more healthy and more prosperous Indian. The least we can do is give him that chance, not grudgingly but in full measure, and cheerfully pay whatever it may cost.

This Should Not Be

Sixteen hundred loggers on Vancouver Island dropped their tools and said they will not cut another stick until arbitrators decide some point in dispute between them and their employers. What the dispute is about is of little importance compared to the fact that a deadlock exists and production is stopped.

With building materials scarce as they are, the Government of Canada and the Government of British Columbia can surely between them work out some plan to bridge the difficulty and keep logs moving to the mills.

If they cannot do that, more will be involved than a curtailment of lumber. That would also be a signal to loggers in other areas that our governmental machinery does not function in face of an emergency, in which case tie-ups elsewhere could be looked for.

This is a time and lumbering is an industry when and where there should be no stoppages of production from any preventable cause. Labor relations laws and administration are on trial all across the Dominion, as to whether they can or cannot keep the output of lumber from being interrupted. That is a key industry, and the public—who own the forests—are entitled to expect a continuous flow of the materials which are so desperately needed.

That Tit-for-Tat Yarn

There was of course nothing in the story which came over the wires a week ago that Canada would not fill the post of ambassador to Russia because Moscow has not yet named anyone to take the place at Ottawa which Mr. Zarubin vacated last fall when he went home for a rest just before the spy-ring conspiracy blew up.

An official statement shows the report to have been wrong in both directions. Ottawa will send a successor to Mr. Wilgerson to Moscow in due time. And Mr. Molotov has said he will send an ambassador to Ottawa as soon as he decides whom to send.

Whoever it was did the guessing in this instance chose an unfortunate subject. It does not help to better international relations to impute official tit-for-tat intentions where these do not exist, or where it is not definitely known that they do exist.

No unnecessary delay should occur in filling the now vacant post at Moscow. The world knows too little about Russia, and outside countries must depend on their representatives there for what information they get. The censorship blocks the flow of news that is common among other countries.

When Mr. Molotov will get around to naming an ambassador at Ottawa is his business, and not of particular concern to Canadians. We can certainly get along without any more like the last one.

What Price Our "Way"?

Dr. Frederic Osborn has collated some disconcerting statistics on how "the democratic way of life" stands in its relationship to other "ways". Of the two billions, in round figures, who constitute the world's population he finds that only 600 millions now enjoy the self-government and freedom tradition.

The remaining 1.4 billions, Dr. Osborn says, are of "alien cultures, in which life is held very cheap, and in which the individual and his right to the pursuit of happiness are negligible." And their number is growing—the doctor estimates the increase will be 460 millions within a quarter century.

It is cold comfort to argue that Dr. Osborn's figures would be easier to understand if he presented them as applying to states or governments rather than to individuals; that millions of individuals are unconscious of the choice between cultures, or indifferent to it.

The fact remains that two-thirds of earth's population, if the figures are even approximately accurate, are of "alien cultures" with, what is worse, no remedy to which they can resort.

A correspondent in The Vancouver Province is critical of a radio announcer who pronounces "Detroit" as "Detroi-ot." The best answer is that it is frequently pronounced that way by residents.

THE TIMID SOUL

Tale of Missing 13

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Radium Hot Springs.—Just a few miles from this pool, where nature never turns off the free hot water, there was a monument to the first white man to cross the Rockies.

Old books, long out of print, are still cherished in pioneer homes hereabouts. Those records tell how the "heathen" native—the Red Indian—welcomed the white intruder. He gave him the best of whatever he had. Cynics may say that the wily savage was no fool. He had heard, by the Indian grapevine telegraph, what had happened to his fellows east of the Rockies. But I am not so sure.

ACROSS FROM my favorite dressing cubicle at the bath-house—number 14—is something that gives me a chuckle. It is a cubicle number 12A. That is, the numbers run, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 12A, 14.

There is no number 13, which proves that here in the Rockies in a bath house owned and run by the Canadian government there is a link with the New York skyscrapers, in the financial capital of the world. We shun the number 13 like the plague in this great Christian North America, materially richer by far than any other country has ever been in the history of the human race. So you won't even find the number 13 in most office buildings in America. You won't find it in the bath-houses—for fear somebody might kick.

IN THE HOT POOL at Radium you meet all sorts of people. Yesterday a Protestant minister from a good sized town a hundred miles from here joined our group. It happened that the night before we had been talking about church attendance. So we used the visitor to check our information.

The unanimous opinion was that, in this part of the world at least, the church is losing its grip. One business man was telling of his town where in the old days the Methodist church would be jam-packed by hundreds of a Sunday night. Now the audience of a Sunday evening runs from ten to fifty people.

The Salvation Army used to have quite a joyful, noisy crowd on the street corner of a Sunday. But only a few Sundays ago one lone man in uniform stood where the band used to stand.

Last summer I met a young Presbyterian college student, sent out to minister to a Vancouver church for the summer. I asked him why he was so down in the mouth. After beating around the bush a bit he told me that exactly two people had turned up at church for Sunday evening service.

I AM AWARE there are conspicuous exceptions to this general trend. In every part of the country there are some religious groups that are not only holding their own but increasing in strength. Even in the denominations which are generally losing their grip there are shining local exceptions.

But the general trend must be apparent to all not blind to plain facts.

ALL THIS SEEMS to me a symptom of the great crisis of this age.

For the great crisis of the age is surely a moral crisis—even before it is a political crisis, or a problem for economists.

Here is an example of what I mean. Just a few hundred miles from where I write the United States army has one of its big atom bomb plants.

The existence of such plants upsets the whole world. It upsets power politics—many experts think it makes armies and navies as obsolete as knights in armor, or castles with stone walls.

It also threatens to upset our economic systems. But above all, atomic explosives pose a moral problem—a question of right and wrong.

The world has "gone ahead" in a mechanical sense in this half century. But it has gone back morally.

If you doubt that, think back to the shudder of horror when German submarines in 1915 sank the Lusitania—then think how the world accepted the atomization of thousands of women and children in 1945.

Growing Suburbia

BY CHESTER A. BLOOM

Immigration and all recessive factors are set off, the net rate of family unit increase, 1939-1945, was about 65,000 annually and preliminary figures show it continued in 1946.

IT IS ACCENTUATED, of course, by other factors. For example, the Canadian marriage rate which reached an all time high of 127,000 in 1942 averaged some 114,000 annually throughout the seven-year period 1939-1945, virtually twice the average of the depressed thirties. The rate tapered off slightly in the last year of the war but rose again as young veterans returned from overseas during 1946 and 40,000 war brides entered the country.

When deaths, divorces reduced

immigration and all recessive factors are set off, the net rate of family unit increase, 1939-1945, was about 65,000 annually and preliminary figures show it continued in 1946.

This marriage factor rate probably will decrease within the next few years—but there is no reason to believe the annual urbanization rate will decline much below the present figure of 67,000.

In other words, the housing problem is bound to be with us for many years to come.

The Opening Gambit

BY FRANK B. WALKER

Geneva.—The press conference given by Sir Stafford Cripps and his speech immediately afterwards to the preparatory committee on trade and employment are the most forthright expression of the British view made public to date.

Sir Stafford indicated clearly that Britain will use "the big import" argument for all it is worth in the forthcoming tariff negotiations.

The speech was complementary to the press conference. At the latter he declared definitely that Britain was not prepared to dismantle her system of Imperial preferences, even if the United States offered to cut tariffs by 50 per cent.

THIS WAS NOT new. The most that can be hoped from the present negotiations is that a start will be made on the long job of lowering and removing tariffs.

But Sir Stafford did not stop here. He challenged the United States' claim that it alone could get along in the world if the present negotiations failed. Britain could too, he maintained, though it would mean lowering her standard of living and restricting her trade to a limited circle of nations, which he said, would be even more unpleasant for others than for the British.

This note of defiance can be treated as an expected prelude to detailed negotiations. Hard pressed as she is, Britain is not without weapons and her main weapons remain the important fact that she is one of the world's largest importers and her buying ability

SIR STAFFORD'S blunt talk does not mean that a hard note has crept into this second meeting of the preparatory committee. The first meeting attempted to do no more basically than to find grounds on which all nations could agree. The points of disagreement were left over. Now these points must be dealt with and in addition concrete matters of tariff reductions must be considered.

Keeping Our Atoms Dry

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

The other evening I read an interesting article which suggested that the atomic bomb should be outlawed because it was essentially a weapon of assault, not of defence. The writer pointed out that the bomb was designed not for use on one's own territory, but on somebody else's territory. The last statement is obviously true, but that doesn't mean that it is not a defensive weapon.

The fallacy in that writer's line of reasoning is that he imagines that it is possible to distinguish between defensive weapons and offensive weapons. For example, airplanes were believed to be defensive weapons in that they were designed to combat enemy bombers. But throughout the war fighters were used successfully as offensive weapons in close support of ground troops. The same holds true of practically every weapon ever designed.

IT IS ALSO a fallacy to class as a defensive weapon one which is designed solely for use in one's own territory, and an offensive weapon one which is designed for use on some other territory. Every rear rank private knows that the best defence is a spirited offence. And the best way to keep people from hitting you is to look like you could hit back hard. I should think the best guarantee we could possibly have of an enduring peace would be for every nation in the world to be so adequately supplied with atomic weapons that it would be able to knock the blues out of any other nation which attacked it. Under such a condition any nation which contemplated an act of aggression would know that the moment it attacked any other nation it would immediately be bombarded with a swarm of atomic rockets or guided missiles. Under such circumstances no nation would dare start anything because it would know that it would suffer too much to be able to enjoy a victory.

Do you suppose an enemy would dare assault this continent if he knew that the moment he started anything all his manufacturing centres, and all his major cities and ports would be atom-blasted into oblivion and his country swept by radio-active clouds?

SO IT SEEMS to me that this weapon which is so terrible that none of us dares think too much about it may be a blessing in disguise. I'd suggest we should keep our atom bombs ready, that we should go right ahead developing more terribly effective instruments for the destruction of mankind and the world. At the same time the facts about what happened at Nagasaki and Hiroshima should be drilled into every inhabitant of the globe. Then, when we finally realized the senselessness and futility of war we should be forced to learn how to get along together peaceably.

OF MORE IMPORTANCE Editor, Bulletin: If the authorities in charge of the city were as anxious about cleaning our filthy streets and sidewalks as they were about monkeying with standard time, it would confer a much greater benefit to all our citizens. TAXPAYER.

Edmonton. PRAISE FOR HOSPITAL Editor, Bulletin: Having been discharged from the Col. Mewburn Pavilion on the 8 Feb. 1947, I would like (through the medium of your Letters to the Editor column) to express my sincere thanks to the visiting members of the various organizations and service clubs, for their many gifts and entertainments, that are greatly appreciated by the patients.

The kindness and courtesy shown by the visiting members creates quite a pleasant feeling of good fellowship. May I go further, and say, that the people of Edmonton can well be proud of their Col. Mewburn Pavilion. CHARLES F. CANDY.

26 Greenford Road, Toronto.

STREET DIRT Editor, Bulletin: I was very much interested in your article re above. While the bylaw is all right regarding sidewalks being swept before 8:30 a.m. I also think they should be swept after 6 o'clock in the evening. For instance, one sweeps their sidewalk in the morning and before evening the dirt is all back on the sidewalk again, especially if a wind is blowing. The water carts are sent out to clean the streets in the evening, thereby they would catch all the dirt and dust that is in the gutters if sidewalks were swept after 6 p.m. Jasper avenue on a Sunday is usually a street of dirt, dust, and litter because there is no sweeping done on Sunday mornings. So Saturday dirt and dust remain there until Monday morning. We mustn't overlook the fact that right now with the city playing the game with the principal streets of picking them up and putting them down it's practically impossible to keep anything clean.

If the city authorities were to educate the people by their own actions of cleanliness the people would endeavour to keep the streets clean. CLEANER STREETS. Edmonton.

Unpaid Taxes

Montreal Financial Times

A tax of 13 per cent to 30 per cent on gross salary, with living costs as they are today, and further substantial increases in prices threatened for the near future is altogether too heavy a burden for the salaried man to carry. It provides an explanation for a considerable proportion of the tax "delinquents" who have been given so much publicity in the daily press of late as, when the time comes for making up income tax returns, this category of taxpayers just does not have the funds to remit for any unpaid taxes over and above his regular salary deductions. If he cannot pay his debts to the doctor, the dentist or the tailor he is hardly likely to remit unpaid taxes to the government.

Partition of India

Now Seems Certain
LONDON, April 21 (AP)—A dispatch from New Delhi published yesterday in the Observer said that division of India into two separate sovereign states—Hindustan and Pakistan—before British forces leave next year now seems a certainty. The Observer dispatch said talks of Viceroy Viscount Mountbatten with Indian political leaders are believed to have forced him to the conclusion that partition is the only alternative to anarchy.

"World Tin King"

Dead in Argentine
BUENOS AIRES, April 21 (AP)—Simon I. Patino, Spanish-Indian peasant who turned a tin mine grubstake into one of the world's greatest fortunes and became the leading tin magnate of his time, died here Sunday in his hotel suite. Patino had been ill for some time. The Bolivian Embassy said death was caused by "general exhaustion" attributed to age. The embassy said he was 86, although biographical records indicated he was 81.

Churchill Denies War Inevitable

LONDON, April 21 (AP)—Winston Churchill said last night that war is not inevitable but would be inevitable if Britain and United States were to follow a policy of appeasement and one-sided disarmament.

The wartime prime minister made the statement to the Associated Press in reply to Henry A. Wallace's remark in a speech at Oslo Saturday night that Churchill "dare not confess publicly the private convictions of his group that war is inevitable."

Churchill said also he did not call Wallace a "crypto-Communist" in a speech last Friday. The text of Churchill's statement: "I did not describe Mr. Wallace as a crypto-Communist. This misstatement was given publicly by the BBC, who made immediate correction on their misrepresentation being pointed out."

"What I said was: 'we have had here lately a visitor from the United States who has foregathered with that happily small minority of crypto-Communists who are making a dead set at the foreign policy which Mr. Ernest Bevin, our foreign secretary, has patiently and steadfastly pursued with the support of nine-tenths of the House of Commons.'"

Against Ont. Opposition Urges Canada to Join Pan-American Union

By Clyde Blackburn
WASHINGTON, April 21 (CP)—Sumner Welles, long-time career diplomat and under-secretary to former State Secretary Cordell Hull for three years, last night said all past reasons for Canada's exclusion from the Pan-American Union had disappeared.

IN A SPEECH prepared for his regular Sunday broadcast, Welles said the reason Canada alone of the American nations remained outside the union was her reluctance to join and the reluctance of the other 21 nations to invite her.

Now, he said, the overwhelming sentiment was to get Canada into the union and the only Canadian area of opposition, he believed, would be Ontario, centred in Toronto.

He endorsed the proposal made last Monday by Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep.-Mich.) that Canada should at once be drawn into the Pan-American Union to speed the day when "our continental brotherhood is complete from the Arctic Circle to Cape Horn."

It seemed so logical that Canada should be in the union, Welles said, that no doubt people were perplexed to understand why she had not joined.

Opposition to inclusion "stemmed solely" from Canada's association with Britain and the belief in earlier years "that it would mean that Canada's policies would be influenced by Downing Street."

"The causes for this belief have not completely vanished," Welles said. "While Canada continues to be a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations... From every practical standpoint Canada is today an altogether independent state."

"I BELIEVE... the great bulk of public opinion throughout the Americas, as well as the great majority of the American governments would warmly share in the hope expressed by Senator Vandenberg."

Welles spoke of his recent speaking tour of Canada under auspices of the Duffo Foundation and his impressions gained there.

He said he felt "justified" in expressing the belief that majority opinion in Western Canada and in Quebec would favor joining the union.

He emphasized that this is an estimate and referred reporters to the war department. There the officially stated answer said only:

EAC's "Class of '34" Triumphs Over '39's

The EAC's "class of '34," like wine of early vintage, has improved with age.

Saturday night at the Edmonton arena a sprinkling of that 1934 team which went to the Dominion junior final before losing to St. Mike's "wonder team," turned back the class of '39, which also went to the Canadian final, by a score of 6-4 in the second annual EAC exhibition hockey game.

Both clubs were augmented by players who acquired most of their hockey training in the EAC organization.

MORE THAN 3,000 faithful Edmonton fans turned out to see their favorites of past years—and they saw a classy group of hockeyists with more experience, polish and finesse than when they flashed along the ice lanes as juniors.

The lads gave the fans something to cheer about, too. They put on a fine display that kept the on-lookers keenly interested for the full 60 minutes. There was no love lost between the two aggregations, either, for they battled tooth and nail for the tie in the corners and more than one player had his hair combed with a high stick.

BILL GAUF and Morey Rimstad, led the winners with a goal and two assists apiece. Mac Colville had one of each and Billy Maher, John McCormack and Terry Cavanaugh counted singles. Marsh Darling and George Agar each scored two goals for the losers, while Bobby Carse made the plays for a couple.

A highlight of the game was the sparkling performance of the two goalies—Doug Stevenson for the "34's," and Ken McAuley for the "39's." Stevenson let in two goals, while McAuley did about everything except swallow the goal stick in the middle frame as he kicked out 15 out of 17 shots. McAuley handled 30 shots and Stevenson 27.

DOUG LANE, an ex-Edmonton Flyer, who finished the season with the St. Louis Flyers of the American League, and Bill Gadsby, former Edmonton Canadian star who is now carving a name for himself with Chicago Black Hawks, were a bulwark on the "34's" defence, along with Mac Colville and Gordon Watt.

"34's"—Stevenson: Watt, Colville; Rimstad, Maher, Cavanaugh; Gadsby, Lane, Allen, McCormack, McSpornan, Gauf, McCready, O'Neill, Grant, Coach, Dan Carrigan.

"39's"—McAuley: Young, Barker; Agar, Chad Carse, Pettinger, Ingram, Darling, Kreller, David, Kelly, Gauf, McDonald, Wright, Coach, Lowell "Lefty" Grove.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—"34," McCormack (Gauf) 4:24; 2—"39," Darling (David) 15:38; 3—"39," Agar (Carse) 19:39. Penalties—Lane 4; O'Neill 10.

SECOND PERIOD: 4—"34," Maher.

Eisenhower Cops Empress Golf Title

VICTORIA, B.C., April 21 (AP)—A 59-year-old lawyer from Tacoma, Wash., Edgar N. Eisenhower, brother of the famous general "Ike," captured the 17th annual Empress golf tournament here. He defeated Brian Hopkins of Vancouver to take the famous Sir Edward Beatty trophy.

Eisenhower and Hopkins each played to a handicap of seven, providing one of the closest competitions ever played in the finals of the Empress handicap event. They tied off on the sea-geared Oak Bay Links of the Victoria Golf Club against a stiff wind blowing in from the Strait of Georgia, which presented an additional hazard on the sporty little course.

TWO EDMONTONIANS—Helmuth Goertz, who won the major honors in the last tournament, and Dr. G. R. Davidson—won final matches in two other flights.

In the women's finals Saturday, Mrs. W. Erickson of Victoria, defeated another local player, Miss I. Jarvis, 7 and 6.

Leafs Are Youngest Stanley Cup Winners

Toronto Beats Canadiens 2-1 In Sixth Game

By William H. Dumsday

TORONTO, April 21

(CP)—Product of the greatest rebuild job in hockey history, Toronto Maple Leafs ruled as champions of the world, youngest team ever to win the Stanley Cup.

With seven rookies in their lineup, the Leafs dethroned Montreal Canadiens when they downed the aging champions 2-1 Saturday night to end the first all-Canadian final in 12 years in six games. To topple the mighty habitants they came from behind and when Ted Kennedy fired the winning goal, only five minutes and 21 seconds of play remained.

AS THE FINAL siren sounded a crowd of 14,546 fans remained standing about ten minutes, shouting "we want the cup." They finally drifted to the exits, protesting when it was announced the trophy was still in Montreal.

Canadiens jumped in front after only 25 seconds and as they outplayed the Toronto team, it seemed as though they would force a final game in the best-of-seven series. But youth and sheer fight won out as the Leafs, who failed to make the National League playoffs a year ago, won their third Stanley Cup in six years.

PROOF OF HOW youth paid off for the new champions was supplied by their youngest line, with 21-year-old Ted Kennedy, flanked by two first-year men, Howie Meeker and Vic Lynn, which accounted for both Toronto goals.

It was the fourth time the Leafs have won the Stanley Cup, the last three of their triumphs being under the guidance of coach Clarence Campbell. Day, the rival mentor, Irvin, master-minded the Leafs when they won the trophy for the first time in 1932. Before the Leafs were formed, other Toronto clubs won the world title on three occasions.

TORONTO—Brode: Boesch, Barilko; Kennedy; Meeker, Lynn. Subs: Thomson, Morrison, Apps, Etienne, Watson, Bodnar, D. Metz, Stewart, Polie, Klukay.

MONTREAL—Durnan: Reardon, Bouchard; O'Connor; Bouchard, Blake. Subs: Harmon, Leger, Edolis, Reay, Allen, McKay, Peters, Fillion, Chamberlain, Graville.

Referee—Chadwick. Linesmen—March, Babcock.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Montreal, O'Connor 23. Penalties—Morrison, Meeker, Leger (2). Thomson, Chamberlain.

SECOND PERIOD: 2—Toronto, Lynn (Kennedy) 5:34. Penalties—Kennedy, Bouchard, Harmon (Migay) 11:29. Penalties—Prystal, Krekiewicz, Bedard.

THIRD PERIOD: 3—Toronto, Kennedy (Meeker) 14:38. Penalties—None.

THE SCHEDULE follows: April 23, Regina; April 24, Calgary; April 25, Edmonton; April 26, Calgary; April 28, Edmonton; April 30, May 1, Vernon, B.C.; May 2-3, New Westminster, B.C.; May 8 and 10, Tacoma.

The entire Canadian team is scheduled to make the trip, including centre Ken Mosdell who suffered a fractured arm against Boston in the Stanley Cup semifinals. Selke said Mosdell would be taking his arm out of its cast shortly. In addition, centre Elmer Lach will be picked up at his home in Regina and will act as a line-man on the tour. Lach was put out of action in early February with a skull fracture.

FOLLOWING players will make up the team opposing Canadiens: goal, Turk Brode, Toronto Maple Leafs; defencemen, Frankie Edolis, Canadiens, Bill Quackenbush, Doug McCall, Jack Stewart, Detroit Red Wings; forwards, Doug and Max Bentley and Bill Mosienko.

Last night's victory, the fourth in six games for Boston, gave the new national champions the best-of-seven series, 4-1, with a sixth game tied.

A tie last night would have been enough for the 'Pies to gain the championship.

St. Mike's Win 8-1 As Fans Litter Ice

By Norm Altstedter

REGINA, April 21 (CP)—Toronto St. Michael's, taking a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven Dominion junior final, defeated Moose Jaw Canucks 8-1 Saturday night in a hectic Memorial Cup match called off with six minutes still to play when the ice was littered with bottles despite the warnings of officials.

Next game will be played here Tuesday.

Al Pickard of Regina, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced over the loud-speaker system that the game would be awarded to St. Mike's if another bottle was thrown. Seconds after the face-off another bottle hit the ice and the game was called.

THE GRUELLING game sparked the fans to a fever pitch which erupted when Ivan Wilson of Moose Jaw was banished for tripping with less than two minutes to play in the second period.

The ice was swept clean four times and the game held up in all about 25 minutes before it was awarded to St. Mike's.

Thirteen penalties were handed out in the heavy play, Moose Jaw taking eight and St. Mike's five. One was a major to Paulka of the Irish.

THE CANUCKS laced 12-3 and 6-1 by St. Mike's in the previous two games, looked like a different team when Wilson shot them into a 1-0 lead with the only goal of the first period.

But St. Mike's hit for three goals in the second frame and notched another four in what was played of the final session.

TORONTO—Harvey: Kelly, Paul; Sandford; Mackell, Costello. Subs: Paulka, Wolf, Migay, Harrison, Hannigan, Winslow.

MOOSE JAW—Bentley: Tarala, Bedard; Stein; Wilson, H. Lovett. Subs: Prystal, Krekiewicz, Jukes, Hunchuk, G. Lovett, Wiley, Thompson, Gaudine.

Boston Captures U.S. Puck Crown

BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—Two goals in the final seconds of play last night gave Boston Olympics a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles Monarchs and the United States Amateur Hockey Association championship before 8,381 fans at Boston.

Defenceman Al Shill's second goal with only 18 seconds remaining put the 'Pies into a 4-4 tie and after the Monarchs pulled out their goalie, Pentti Lund sank the winning point.

Last night's victory, the fourth in six games for Boston, gave the new national champions the best-of-seven series, 4-1, with a sixth game tied.

A tie last night would have been enough for the 'Pies to gain the championship.

Senior Baseball Workouts Popular

Baseball would appear to be headed for a big year if the attendance at the first two practices is any indication of the amount of interest in the game. Initial workout of the senior ball season drew about fifty to Renfrew Park Saturday afternoon, while on Sunday approximately 100 were on hand.

CUBS AND ESKIMOS are Edmonton's two clubs in the new Big Four Inter-city League and the opening game has been set for May 16.

Last Minute Rush In Recipe Contest

Judges in Alberta's $1,500 recipe contest will have a difficult job to select the winning dish which will be used as a "typical" Alberta food dish, if the number of entries already in the office of D. E. C. Campbell, director of tourist publicity is any criterion.

More than 3,000 recipes had been received on Monday morning and the rate at which the suggestions are pouring in, the judges may have to select from about 5,000, Mr. Campbell estimates.

The contest closes at midnight April 30, and those who have delayed in sending in their suggestions are beginning to worry a little about the deadline.

Court Suspends Driver's License

A taxi driver, John Bartko, felt the sting of justice Monday morning when Magistrate A. L. Millar suspended his license for three months and fined him $25 and costs or 35 days on a speeding charge. Bartko was apprehended April 3 when travelling 40 miles an hour along Jasper avenue between 95 and 97 streets. He admitted a previous dangerous driving conviction.

The man who traded hats with Edwin Bergley, Grande Prairie, on April 7, in a 97 street cafe, after punching Bergley in the nose, appeared before the magistrate Monday on charges of assault and theft. He is Joseph Hodgson, Edmonton.

On the assault charge he was fined $15 and costs or 21 days, while the charge of stealing Bergley's hat was withdrawn.

Zale and Graziano To Meet in Chicago

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—The Illinois Boxing Commission yesterday approved a 15-round title bout between middleweight champion Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano, suspended fighter in New York, in Chicago sometime between June 25 and July 15.

The two battlers last fought in New York Sept. 26 when Zale retained his title with a thrilling sixth-round knockout of Graziano in a bout that grossed $342,000. Since that time, Graziano was banned by the New York Boxing Commission for failure to report a $100,000 "fix" offer he said he thought was a joke.

"Horseback Amazon" Eludes Policemen

RANGOON, April 21.—(Reuters)—A vivid young girl, known as "the Amazon on horseback" because she last was seen leading an attack of bandits on a native village from the back of a sleek white pony, is proving an elusive quarry for British soldiers. They stumbled on her hideaway Saturday—but the girl and pony had disappeared. Before and since, the soldiers heard campfire tales of her exploits. Each time they close in on her bandit band, she escapes.

The judge gave a decree for £90 ($360) in favor of plaintiff John Darby who brought suit against farmer Thomas Culligan for £151 ($605).

The judge said: "What splendid generosity it is... to offer a man five shillings a year. It shows no humanity after 25 years of service."

British Liberals Seeking Re-Birth

LONDON, April 21.—(Reuters)—The Liberal party seeks a renaissance in Britain and hopes to absorb persons torn between the extremes of Socialism and "Toryism."

In the last six months, 178 new Liberal associations have been formed throughout the country—a record for any political party.

At the party's annual assembly at Bournemouth this week, a resolution forebodes a Liberal candidate in every constituency for the next election.

It welcomes all expressions of Liberal opinion—even when subscribed by members of other political movements—cordially invites them to join the Liberal party and pledges itself to the rebuilding of Liberal organizations in every constituency.

Another resolution urges the adoption of a single party color, "traffic signal green," as a symbol of Liberal progress everywhere.

Voters in Germany Reject Communism

ESSEN, Germany, April 21.—(AP)—German voters in the British occupation zone Sunday rejected Communism as the cure for their food shortages and other troubles and gave their support to the Social Democratic party for Christian Democratic Union, complete official returns showed today.

The Social Democrats (SPD) won the greatest number of parliamentary seats in the states of Niedersachsen and Schleswig-Holstein, while the Christian Democrats (CDU) topped all rivals in North Rhine-Westphalia, which includes the Ruhr.

The Communists scored substantial gains in North Rhine-Westphalia, winning 28 seats compared with 19 held previously, but won only eight seats in Niedersachsen and none in Schleswig-Holstein.

The Social Democrats won an over-all popular vote in the British zone, with 3,313,127 ballots. The Christian Democrats received 2,747,775, and the Communists 891,026.

Unions May Expel Pro-Red Delegates

MONTREAL, April 21.—(CP)—The Gazette said today in a newspaper story that six delegates to the Montreal Trades and Labor Council would likely be expelled shortly from the organization, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, because they had been found "guilty of advocating Communism."

The paper quoted officers of the council as saying that five of the delegates were officials of the Canadian Seamen's Union and that the sixth was an official of the International Chemical Workers Union. The CSU men were identified as: D. Daniels, G. E. McManus, Carl Sauras, Harry Davis and R. Read. The ICWU officer is W. Sturup.

The paper said their case had been heard Saturday by an AFL inter-union "trial" committee.

Senate Vote Near On Truman Plan

By HARRISON SALISBURY
British United Press
Foreign News Writer

Senate debate on President Truman's new American foreign policy doctrine entered the final stages today with a vote scheduled for 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Passage by a wide margin was assured and it was expected that the house would complete action on the legislation to provide $400,000,000 in grants to Greece and Turkey with little further delay.

The last phase of senate debate on the measure was marked by republican demands for a "more consistent" American foreign policy. The Republican objections were centered against a state department request for permission to ship $17,000,000 in lend-lease supplies to Russia at a time when $400,000,000 was being asked to halt the spread of Communism in the near east.

Admits Slaying Six-Year-Old Girl

MINEOLA, N.Y., April 21 (AP)—James Gehrig, Nassau County district attorney, said Sunday that Anthony Papa, 27, had confessed the slaying Saturday night of six-year-old Rosemary Fusco, found in her bedroom with her throat slashed.

Papa was arraigned shortly after he confessed, Gehrig said, and was held without bail for grand jury action. He has been charged with murder in the first degree.

Rosemary's body was found by her mother, when she returned home shortly before midnight Saturday. The child's brother, William, nine, who had been asleep in another bedroom, knew nothing of what happened.

Gehrig said police apprehended Papa after following a trail of blood leading from the Fusco home to Papa's home, less than a block away. Gehrig said Papa cut his hand breaking a window to enter the Fusco home.

Papa broke down, Gehrig said, when confronted with bloodstained clothing found in his closet. He gave no reason for the slaying and said "I loved her as my own child."

Helgoland Blast Didn't Alter Isle

HELGOLAND, April 21.—(Reuters)—The blast from nearly 7,000 tons of explosives set off to destroy German naval fortifications on the half-mile-square island of Helgoland Friday caused surprisingly little change in the island's structure, though it looked like a rubbish dump last night.

The only noticeable structural alteration was at the southwest section of the island where a 200-foot sandstone cliff collapsed near the harbors, which were comparatively unaffected by the explosion.

More than 60 Allied and German journalists and photographers landed after a party of scientists and technical experts had completed an investigation of the effects of this "European Bikini."

German Journalists—some of whom had expected that most of Helgoland would be blown away—admitted that the Royal Navy's arrangements to destroy only fortifications and guns had been successful.

Helgoland, formerly a bird sanctuary, seemed to have been deserted by the birds since the blast.

Increase Forecast; Butter Sales Up

An appreciable increase in butter sales was reported by retailers in Edmonton as customers rushed to stock up before the 10-cent a pound increase forecast for May 1 went into effect, managers of stores stated Monday.

A similar increase was noticed in Calgary, but in Winnipeg sales of 250 per cent above normal Saturday trading took place. In the Manitoba capital it was reported that at least 10 days' normal sales passed over the counters of the city's groceries and meat shops.

The buying spurge was touched off by the report that butter prices would advance from 10 to 15 cents a pound when the Dominion government subsidy to the producer lapsed at the end of this month.

Wallace Opposes Churchill's Plan

COPENHAGEN, April 21 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, here for a speaking engagement today, voiced disagreement last night with Winston Churchill's contention that British-American disarmament would bring on a third world war, and declared that "a harmonious economic approach is the road to peace."

"I have faith that what can be accomplished at the international trade conference in Geneva will have more effect than the great increase in armaments, which is what Churchill suggests," Wallace told reporters after they had read him the text of Churchill's statement in London.

The Vets

Let us have serious words to-day about veterans, a subject about which many of you seem to know somewhat less than nothing. I am writing this mainly because I've been against it. A newspaperman who has an almost uncanny gift for knowing what interests the public (and if I were you I'd resent that), said this to me: "Above all, don't write about veterans. Practically everything in the papers these days is about veterans or 'vets' as we call them in the heads. Stick to writing about bathtubs."

I suppose the reason for this is simply that we have all had a kind of frantic desire to forget about the war. We have succeeded too well. Since I returned to Canada it seems to me that only talk I've heard about war has been about the next one.

Race Apart
What worries me most about veterans is the fear that they (that we, I should say) are being thought of as a kind of race apart. I remember too well what people of my generation thought of veterans of the First World War.

They were men who talked interminably about Mons, Vimy, Ypres and other strange places. Sang dirty songs and drank rum and beer at reunions. Were ridiculously bright berets and rows of medals that we viewed with utter cynicism. Looked pathetic marching on hot days. Called themselves "Old Sweats." And in World Peace-ways they labelled them "suckers."

We do not feel like that now. We know what war is about. We sing the songs now. We talk about Falaise and about Cap Gris Nez and the Scheldt. We wear the gay berets. In another two or three years they will be calling us the suckers.

But the worst that can happen is to become a segregated branch of society, a call of special interests, a breed apart. We do not want to be "Old Sweats" and nothing more.

The trend already is to look on the ex-serviceman as a sort of special kind of person. Lord, I'm sick of hearing people talk about veterans being maladjusted, of being unable to get back to "normal." I'm sick of reading about it in MacLean's Magazine.

It is the most natural thing in the world for the veteran to have a struggle in returning to his old way of life. For three or four or maybe six years he lived a life of unrest. Every day of those years called on him to adapt himself to something new; to the strange and essentially pointless routine of the service, to new people and new scenes, to deep loneliness, to the fear of being killed that hurt in the groin.

Long Road Back
Then suddenly, it was all over. And he had the whole long road to go back. Nobody seemed to accept this as fact. The outlook seems not to have been realistic understanding, but a kind of sentimental sympathy. All hail the returning neurotic, welcome the rehabilitation problem.

Yet these men need no sympathy. They need no "careful handling," as I heard one employer magnanimously put it in boasting how "his boys" had got back to work. They need no assurance of gratitude or of understanding. They don't ask for these things. They got along without them in rougher times.

I think what they most want from you is very simple. It is just this: Stop thinking of them as veterans.

Government Plans Keep Fast Time

Provincial government offices will go on daylight saving time when city business places make the switch, Premier Ernest Manning announced Monday.

The premier returned late Sunday night from a Calgary trip, and was not aware that Mayor Harry Ainlay had made his proclamation.

"It wouldn't be practical for provincial offices to remain on standard time, with the rest of the city on daylight saving," he commented.

Engineer Ends Lengthy Service
Frank T. Lane terminated 42 years of railroading when he brought train No. 14 into Mirror last Thursday on his last run as Canadian National Railways engineer on the Calgary-Mirror branch.

BORN AT WESTBURY, England, Mr. Lane started working for the Great Western Railway, with which company he served until 1905 when he came to Canada and joined the Grand Trunk railroad at Stratford, Ont., as fireman.

In 1906 he was transferred to Rivers, Man., and in 1910 was promoted to engineer. He worked on freight and construction trains from Rivers west, and moved to Edmonton in 1919.

He entered passenger service in 1930 on trains 13 and 14 between Edmonton and Mirror, and in 1941 transferred to Mirror and worked the same trains between Mirror and Calgary until his retirement.

MR. LANE and his family, three daughters and one son, are well known in Edmonton, having resided at Calder from 1919 to 1941.

At Mirror station when he concluded his final run the townspeople turned out in large numbers to greet him, and several members of Division 796 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, also greeted their retiring comrade.

A banquet and dance was held at Mirror in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lane, and gifts of silver and an electric mixer were presented to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane expect to make their home at the Pacific coast after a brief visit to Edmonton.

King George Described Keen Stamp Collector

His Majesty the King is one of the keenest stamp collectors in the world and is exhibiting a portion of his magnificent collection in the Centenary Exhibition to be held in New York City from May 16 to 25, Robson Lowe, chairman of the British Philatelic Association, and Postal History Society of Great Britain, revealed here Monday.

MR. LOWE, probably the world's greatest expert on stamps, is making a tour of Canada, speaking to philatelic associations and clubs in several Canadian cities.

At noon Monday he addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the Optimist Club, Monday evening he was to speak to the Edmonton Philatelic Society on the "British Exhibit in New York."

Mr. Lowe operates several stamp sales businesses in Great Britain and has recently opened one in Philadelphia.

He finds interest in stamps much higher among Canadians than he anticipated. His own private collection is quite extensive, and he has several varieties entered in the New York exhibit.

Miss Annabelle Lowe, daughter of the British expert, is accompanying him on his Canadian and U.S. tour. She, too, has a wide knowledge of stamps and assists her father in his various business ventures in Britain.

While in Edmonton Mr. Lowe will have tea with Chief Justice Horace Harvey of the Alberta Supreme court who has been an enthusiastic philatelist for many years.

The British expert is the author of several authoritative books on the subject of stamps.

Heavy Demand For All Types Tools

There is a heavy demand both abroad and in Canada for tools of all kinds, W. B. Dadds, Toronto, sales manager for the Gray-Bonny Tool Manufacturing Co. of Toronto and Welland, said here Monday.

In their two Ontario plants the company manufactures all kinds of tools including aircraft, industrial, automotive and general hardware.

The devastated countries of Europe are importing large amounts of tools and as a result there is a considerable shortage in Canada, Mr. Dadds said.

The sales manager is visiting several distributors of the company's products in Edmonton in the course of a routine tour of Western cities.

Pleads Guilty Two Counts

An attempt to enter an ice-box at the home of E. H. Barton, 12413 115 avenue, proved disastrous for Alex Twin, Hobbema Indian reserve.

Monday morning he stood in the dock in the city police court facing house breaking charges in connection with entering the homes of Robert Geary, 9550 102A avenue, Emerson "Buck" Eaton, 9522 102A avenue, and Mr. Barton. He pleaded guilty to entering the Eaton and Barton homes, and not guilty to entering the Geary home. He was remanded until April 28.

Police received a call about 9:15 p.m. Saturday from Mr. Barton that he and his wife had surprised a man who had entered their kitchen and was in the act of opening the ice-box. Mr. Barton said the man had run out the rear door.

City constables responded and searched the district but could not find the man. Then at 11 p.m. they received another call from Mr. Barton that the man was still in the district. This time police found and arrested Twin.

Mr. Eaton's home was entered Friday night or early Saturday morning. At that time a top coat, hat, and his wallet containing $19 was stolen. When searched after arrest Twin was found to be carrying the wallet.

Mr. Geary, who lives next door to Mr. Eaton, had his home robbed Friday night. Two suitcases, a woman's coat and a man's coat were missing.

For National Defence

Canadian Legion Urges Compulsory Training

Members of Edmonton Montgomery Branch No. 24, of the Canadian Legion desire to make certain there will be no return to the kind of "thinking" about defence matters that prevailed in Canada between the First and Second World Wars.

Boys Pipe Band Elects Officers

H. C. Gerrard, was elected president of the Edmonton Boys Pipe Band, at the annual meeting of the association, held recently.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year were: honorary president, T. H. Campbell; honorary vice-president, Mayne Reid K.C.; first vice-president, J. Lockie; second vice-president, L. Peel; treasurer, J. Armstrong, and secretary, R. A. Wilson.

The need for more pipers and drummers was stressed and the co-operation of the fathers and mothers of the boys especially solicited in order to make the band successful.

The annual band competitions will be held at the American Red Cross hut on Saturday April 26, commencing at 8 p.m. Cups and medals will be awarded.

A dance from 10 p.m. to 12 midnight will end the festivities.

Highway Clinic Here Next Week

To develop information assisting in the construction of streets, highways and airports, will be the chief aim of the annual street and highway clinic of the Husky Refining Company, to be held in the MacDonald hotel, April 29 and 30, beginning at 9 a.m.

Frank S. Gilmore, consulting engineer from Kansas City, Missouri, will be the guest speaker.

Basen and sub-bases needed for asphalt surfaces on streets, highways, sidewalks and airport landing strips, will be discussed.

Similar clinics are to be held in Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

AT THE REGULAR monthly meeting of the branch held Sunday in the Memorial Hall, two resolutions were passed, the first urging the federal government to adopt a national unified system of compulsory training for defence, the second in support of a cadet and physical training system in schools.

The preamble to the resolutions pointed out that members of the legion have carried a large share of the burden in two great wars and do not feel they should be obliged to do so in a third struggle.

ELECTION OF 25 delegates to represent the branch at the provincial command convention of the legion to be held here from June 8 to June 11, was carried out.

Branch President Percy Gwynne will head the delegation composed of the following elected representatives: J. Foster, A. MacDonald, W. Bowdell, W. S. Lang, G. C. Scott, E. "Ted" Brown, W. G. Paterson, J. Turner, B. R. Swankey, T. Davies, S. H. Campbell, W. T. Rice, W. R. McLaren, Archie Allan, G. E. Gleave, W. W. Ward, W. Ireland, T. R. Green, A. Riddell, W. E. Curry, Ross Cameron, W. Smith, A. E. Nightingale and W. Curtis.

Executive secretary W. J. Williams, M.L.A., will be an ex-officio member of the delegation.

Ed Sarman, T. Barker, A. Small, and F. E. J. Hancock were elected Legion branch representatives to the Consumers' League, following a resolution presented by Ben Swankey, who pointed out the necessity of fighting increased costs of living.

After hearing a report that termed an "unsatisfactory" official replies to the legion's demand for an inquiry into provincial mental institutions and a request for separate mental establishments for war veterans, the branch decided to place resolutions concerning these matters before the meeting of the provincial command.

Irene Sherback Becomes Bride

Daffodils decorated St. John's Church for the wedding Wednesday of Miss Irene Esther Sherback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sherback of Edmonton, and Maurice Edward Hardwicke, of Lloydminster, son of Mrs. D. Hardwicke of Westbank, B.C. The Rev. Father Joseph Malone performed the ceremony. Mrs. H. McCallum sang Schubert's Ave Maria, during the signing of the register.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a taupe dressmaker suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She carried a white prayer book. The bride's sister, Miss Vera Sherback was bridesmaid and wore a cream dressmaker suit with blue accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Best man was Orville Sherback and Gilbert Sherback was usher. MRS. SHERBACK chose for her daughter's wedding a flowered silk jersey frock, black hat trimmed with blue flowers and complemented with a corsage of yellow roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held when the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with vases of spring flowers. Fr. Malone proposed the bridal toast.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon in Calgary, the bride travelling in an aqua top coat over her wedding suit. They will reside in Lloydminster.

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

THE PANAMA CANAL

(Editor's Note:—A Congressional committee is now studying various plans for enlarging and improving the Panama Canal. An earlier project, begun in 1906, had to be abandoned during the war.)

Ever since explorers found that only a few miles of land separated the Atlantic and Pacific oceans between North and South America, men had spoken of joining these two oceans by digging a canal. But no real attempt was made until the year 1878, when a French company secured from the Republic of Colombia the right to dig a canal through the isthmus of Panama. At the head of the company was Ferdinand de Lesseps, who had succeeded in separating Africa from Asia by means of the Suez Canal.

It was found, however, that the two pieces of work could not be compared. The Suez Canal is only a great ditch through the land or canal and so for several years the whole plant lay idle. Meanwhile, in the United States there was interest in the canal. Some men wished to buy out the French company and continue the work across the isthmus of Panama. Others preferred to cross the isthmus of Nicaragua, farther to the north. Here the distance between the Atlantic and the Pacific is much wider, but the plans included the use of a large lake and a river as part of the canal.

Finally, the Panama route was chosen, and the French company was bought out for $40,000,000. Just as the Republic of Colombia seemed to intend to go back upon the bargain it had made and to charge the United States a much higher price than had been agreed upon for the right to cut the isthmus. But the citizens of the isthmus suddenly declared themselves independent of Colombia in 1903, and created the Republic of Panama. An agreement was immediately made with the new republic. The United States agreed to pay $10,000,000 and, after ten years, $250,000 a year. The building of a sea level canal was at first mentioned, but it was decided to build a lock canal—a canal which is not level all the way across but in which the boats are raised from one level to another by means of locks.

The Republic of Panama granted the United States a strip of land five miles wide on each side of the canal. This is called the Canal Zone. Also the privilege of controlling the health conditions in the cities of Colon and Panama was granted. At first, civilian engineers were appointed, but in 1907, the entire work was placed in charge of Colonel George W. Goethals.

It took many years to complete the canal, and great difficulties had to be overcome. In a later article, we shall tell you how the immense undertaking was accomplished.

tabled in the Commons a report of the first full year of operation of a measure designed primarily to assist the average farmer who in the past has not always been able to obtain bank credit to improve his property.

The report showed that 13,030 farmers, more than 10,000 of them in the three prairie provinces, obtained loans valued at $9,980,345 last year and that no banks had made any claims on the government to recover losses.

The interest rate is five per cent simple interest per annum, and loans may be made for periods up to 10 years.

FARM IMPLEMENTS and farm trucks accounted for $7,488,347 of loans made during 1936.

This table breaks down the number of loans and their amounts by provinces.

Raid $5,000,000 Lottery Ring

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Seventeen men were arrested Saturday in connection with operation of an Italian lottery ring which, police said, was a $5,000,000-a-week revival of a lottery once controlled by vice-savoured Charles 'Lucky' Luciano. Police termed the arrests 'the most important ever made in the history of the lottery.'

Ring catches of sardines sometimes run as high as 300,000 pounds.

RADAR

A GUIDING EYE...

for Ships in Fog or Darkness

■ Radar has solved the mariners' problem of plotting a safe course through storm and darkness. Even dense fog no longer means that ships must drop anchor. When there is no visibility, the officer on watch can see on the viewing screen of the Electronic Navigator the exact locations of the shore line, buoys, and other surface obstacles. Particularly important is the fact that the positions of other ships can be observed, minimizing the danger of collision. This remarkable war-time development has ushered in a new era of safety, undreamed of even a few years ago, and is typical of the great contribution made by the new science of electronics.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ELECTRONIC NAVIGATOR

■ Out of the recent research into the field of radar comes the G-E Electronic Navigator. It is designed specifically for use on merchant ships to provide early warning of approaching vessels and navigational dangers on open sea as well as in restricted waters. The instrument may be operated effectively by any member of a ship's crew with no more than 15 minutes instruction. Its reliability and simplicity are symbolic of the way in which G-E Research and Engineering are constantly placing the marvels of the Electronic World at the service of the nation in its daily life.

Sever All Relations During Experiment

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I are making human guinea pigs of ourselves. We are experimenting with a trial separation. He feels that life has never given him a fair show because he has never had any freedom. He says that when he was a boy, his father had him tied down; then the war came along and the government tied him down; then I came into the picture and I tied him down; and our little six-week-old baby caps the climax by tying him down worse than ever.

He says he loves me but he just can't stand not to be able to run around with his old buddies and have girl friends, and go about and do as he pleases, without having a wife hanging around his neck and making him tell where he has been and what he did, and feeling aggrieved if he doesn't get home except with the milkman.

HE THINKS that if he could have from six months to a year of freedom, he might get this craving for liberty out of his system and be ready to settle down and be a good husband and father. I have agreed to this plan and have taken the baby and gone back to my people and have been separated from him one week ago to day. How do you think the plan will work?

WORRIED WIFE
Answer: I think the chances are that it will work out fine if you have enough backbone to carry out your end of the bargain and to force him to live up to his. By that I mean for you to break off all relationship with your husband for the duration of your contract. Don't let him see the baby. Give him so much rope that he will hang himself with it.

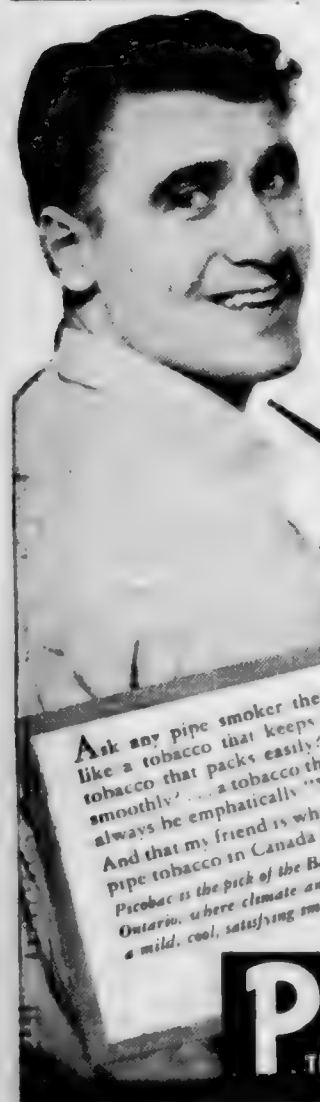

But if you are going to be so weak as to take him on as a sort of part-time husband and let him come back and forth whenever he gets lonesome, hungry or in need of money, your experiment will

by Frances Thompson noted homemaking authority

Yes it's a fact—the unusual mildness of soapless VEL makes it an ideal cleanser for all kinds of woolens. As you know, many soaps contain alkalis which can be very unkind to woolen fibres and tend to roughen them. But soapless VEL is a neutral product containing no alkalis—this is why it leaves woolen fibres soft and fluffy and helps give woolen garments longer life.

NEVER WRING WOOLENS
Woolens should always be washed with care—quick washing, gentle squeezing and lukewarm water are "musts." Never rub or twist woolens. VEL dissolves instantly in lukewarm water making it act as soft as rain-water.

NO RUBS NEEDED
Using a slightly lower amount than soap, try VEL for your favourite sweater. Dad's socks, or

Why Grow Old?

Are Actresses Marie MacDonald and Adie Jergens dressed to impress each other or Commander Jim Waverly who is attending the same party? Josephine Lowman has some clues on the subject today.

By Josephine Lowman
Over and over you and I have heard the question of whether women dress for men or for women. It is difficult to know where the truth lies. Not long ago I asked a friend who is a woman famous in her career and distinguished in her appearance and dress and she answered, "For both."

I believe this is the answer. The feminine nature places most women in competition with each other. There are a few free souls who actually don't give a hang if their fur coat is poney while Mrs. Blank's is mink, but they are in the minority. The majority of women feel more secure and happier if they can keep up with the other women they know. This is not true of men. The man who worries about whether his suit is as up to date in cut, or as rich in material as his buddy's, is indeed a strange creature.

Therefore women do dress for women in a certain sense. However I believe that the great drive for attractiveness, which women experience and which sends them scurrying to sales counters and

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer, Eldred
It is unusual for an adolescent to spring to the defence of spanking, for the average child of these independent years would prefer being reasoned rather than beaten into good behavior.

But, when the adolescent, now a sinner, and on the basis of one experience with an obstreperous child, jumps to the conclusion that spanking is the panacea for misbehavior, she is clearly out of her depths.

Spanking is a highly controversial subject. Parents have very strong opinions about it, especially men who do not want to think about a problem of child behavior, but just act upon it. They are successful more often than mothers because they punish less often.

They do not have to deal all day with the trivial behavior which wears the mother down, and so meet a real crisis in an objective fashion.

Certainly parents want to do something to a belligerent, determinedly misbehaving child. But when they have such a child what should concern them deeply is why the child should develop such attitudes. Is he fearful that he isn't as dearly loved as some other member of the family? Is he dominated to the point of stubborn resistance? A spanking won't erase those situations or do one thing to increase the child's desire to be good.

Spanking is always a temporary expedient. It comforts the parent with the idea that she is doing something, instead of ignoring it. Almost anything she would do, it convinced the child that she was really serious about his misbehavior, would work well.

All authorities concerned with child development are predominantly, if not universally, opposed to the use of pain as a means of teaching the child how to act. The right behavior has to be taught by example. The mistakes have to be penalized by isolation (a natural one for anti-social behavior); by deprivation, by explanations. And always the parent must have a knowledge of how growing children tend to act.

Armed with such mild weapons and such knowledge the opportunity for serious misbehavior and the need for drastic punishments are reduced to the minimum.

As for the young sinner, it is her job to be skilled enough to
